

REKINDLE THE SPARK OF PURPOSE

Igniting
Possibilities through Collective Wisdom

- How can knowing your purpose influence your productivity and work satisfaction?
- What would be possible if team member showed up engaged and ready to add value?
- How can living your purpose strengthen your relationships and help you prioritize what matters?

FULL DAY WORKSHOP RETREAT

This highly interactive personal development event is facilitated from a peer coaching perspective. Participants will be equally challenged and inspired to leverage collective wisdom as they dive into activities to pursue clarity. They will explore ways to develop a Purpose Portfolio and integrate their unique gifts to add value to family, employer, community and other circles of influence.

I really enjoyed this retreat. I loved the intimacy and openness. The facilitators pulled from their own passion and purpose making them relatable and making this unlike a traditional seminar. Giving me ideas on how to bring my passion and purpose together to help others in unconventional ways. Thank you!"

WHO SHOULD ATTEND?

Anyone can benefit by attending this retreat no matter where they are in the exploration process. As participants engage in the different exercises throughout the day, they will move toward a greater understanding of the incredible opportunity to live life with passion and purpose.

What's in it for Employers?

According to a Gallup poll in 2015, 68% of U.S. workers were either "not engaged or "actively disengaged" at work.

We believe that offering opportunities for individuals to openly discuss and align their purpose with meaningful work may lead to happier, more creative and higher performing employees.
